FARE FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN. Several of the city railway companies have expressed to representatives of The EVENING WORLD a favorable attitude towards the suggestion of a reduced fare for school children which has been made by the Board of Education, and which is so thoroughly good an idea.

It is sound policy in the railway lines to make this reduction in the fare for children, and they will probably lose nothing It is a benefit to the boys and girls, and to their parents. Any time subtracted from the term of education is a great loss to a child, and especially is this so to poor boys. Straitened circumstances often render it imperative that when a boy has reached the age of twelve or fourteen he is obliged to go to work in order to help along the family expenses. This cuts his schooling short.

The importance, then, of not letting any of the time which he can give to getting an education go to waste is obvious. Yet in the existing lack of school room both boys and girls are losing much of this precious time. The reduced car-fare will enable children to go quite a distance, it need be, to some school less crowded, and remedies this waste of time. Let the Board of Education approach the railway comphnies and make such provision for the children as soon as possible. It is a wise, considerate thing. dear friend is dead.
